Wanted by Italian and Kosovo authorities, two people arrested, extradition expected (NAMES)

Two people wanted internationally have been arrested in Tirana and Rinas as part of the international operation codenamed "The Wanted".

The arrested individuals are Ervin Dakoli and Hamdi Krasniqi.

Forty-seven-year-old Dakoli was arrested for extradition to Italy, after the Bologna Court issued an arrest warrant against him in May 2026 for participation in a criminal conspiracy aimed at trafficking narcotics.

"This citizen is accused of having organized and carried out, during 2020 and in cooperation with other citizens, the purchase, transportation, importation, preliminary storage and possession of large quantities of narcotics (marijuana, hashish and cocaine) trafficked in Italy for the purpose of sale," police said.

Thirty-eight-year-old Hamdi Krasniqi was arrested in Rinas after, according to Kosovo authorities, the Peja Court of Appeals sentenced him in 2022 to one year and six months in prison for counterfeiting banknotes.

In cooperation with other individuals, the 38-year-old is suspected of having attempted to put approximately $15,000 in counterfeit currency into circulation in Peja during 2021.

Statement:

Two internationally wanted citizens have been detained in Tirana and Rinas on behalf of the justice authorities in Italy and Kosovo.

As part of operational and intelligence cooperation with counterparts, coordinated by the Interpol Directorate, with the aim of locating, detaining and extraditing internationally wanted citizens, two individuals were detained in Tirana and Rinas:
