From Shkozet to Elbasan and the fatal return to Durrës, how Ergys Agasi was followed step by step until his arrest

New details from the State Police operation have shed light on the arrest of Ergys Agasi, whom SPAK accuses of leading a structured criminal group in the AKSHI file.

According to investigative file data, in the final hours before his arrest, Agasi was monitored continuously by law enforcement structures. The surveillance was carried out primarily through drones, which recorded video and photographic footage of his movements.

He was spotted on the morning of August 26 in the Shkozet area of Durrës. Shortly before noon, he left the villa complex in a luxury vehicle and headed toward Elbasan.

The vehicle's itinerary was tracked and documented in real time by police intelligence. During the return, police services intercepted him in the Plepa area of Durrës, where Ergys Agasi was arrested. In the same vehicle, former police officer Ulian Shpataraku was also handcuffed.

Minute-by-minute monitoring of Ergys Agasi's movements from Durrës to Elbasan

11:39 a.m.: A person suspected to be Ergys Agasi was seen exiting the second-floor premises of the villa complex. He was wearing a white shirt and black three-quarter pants. The person continued moving toward the first-floor lobby and then entered the interior premises of the complex.

11:59 a.m.: During surveillance, a black Audi A6 with a roof rack was observed entering the complex. After passing through the main gate, the vehicle proceeded toward the underground parking of the villa complex. Due to tinted windows, it was not possible to identify the people inside.
